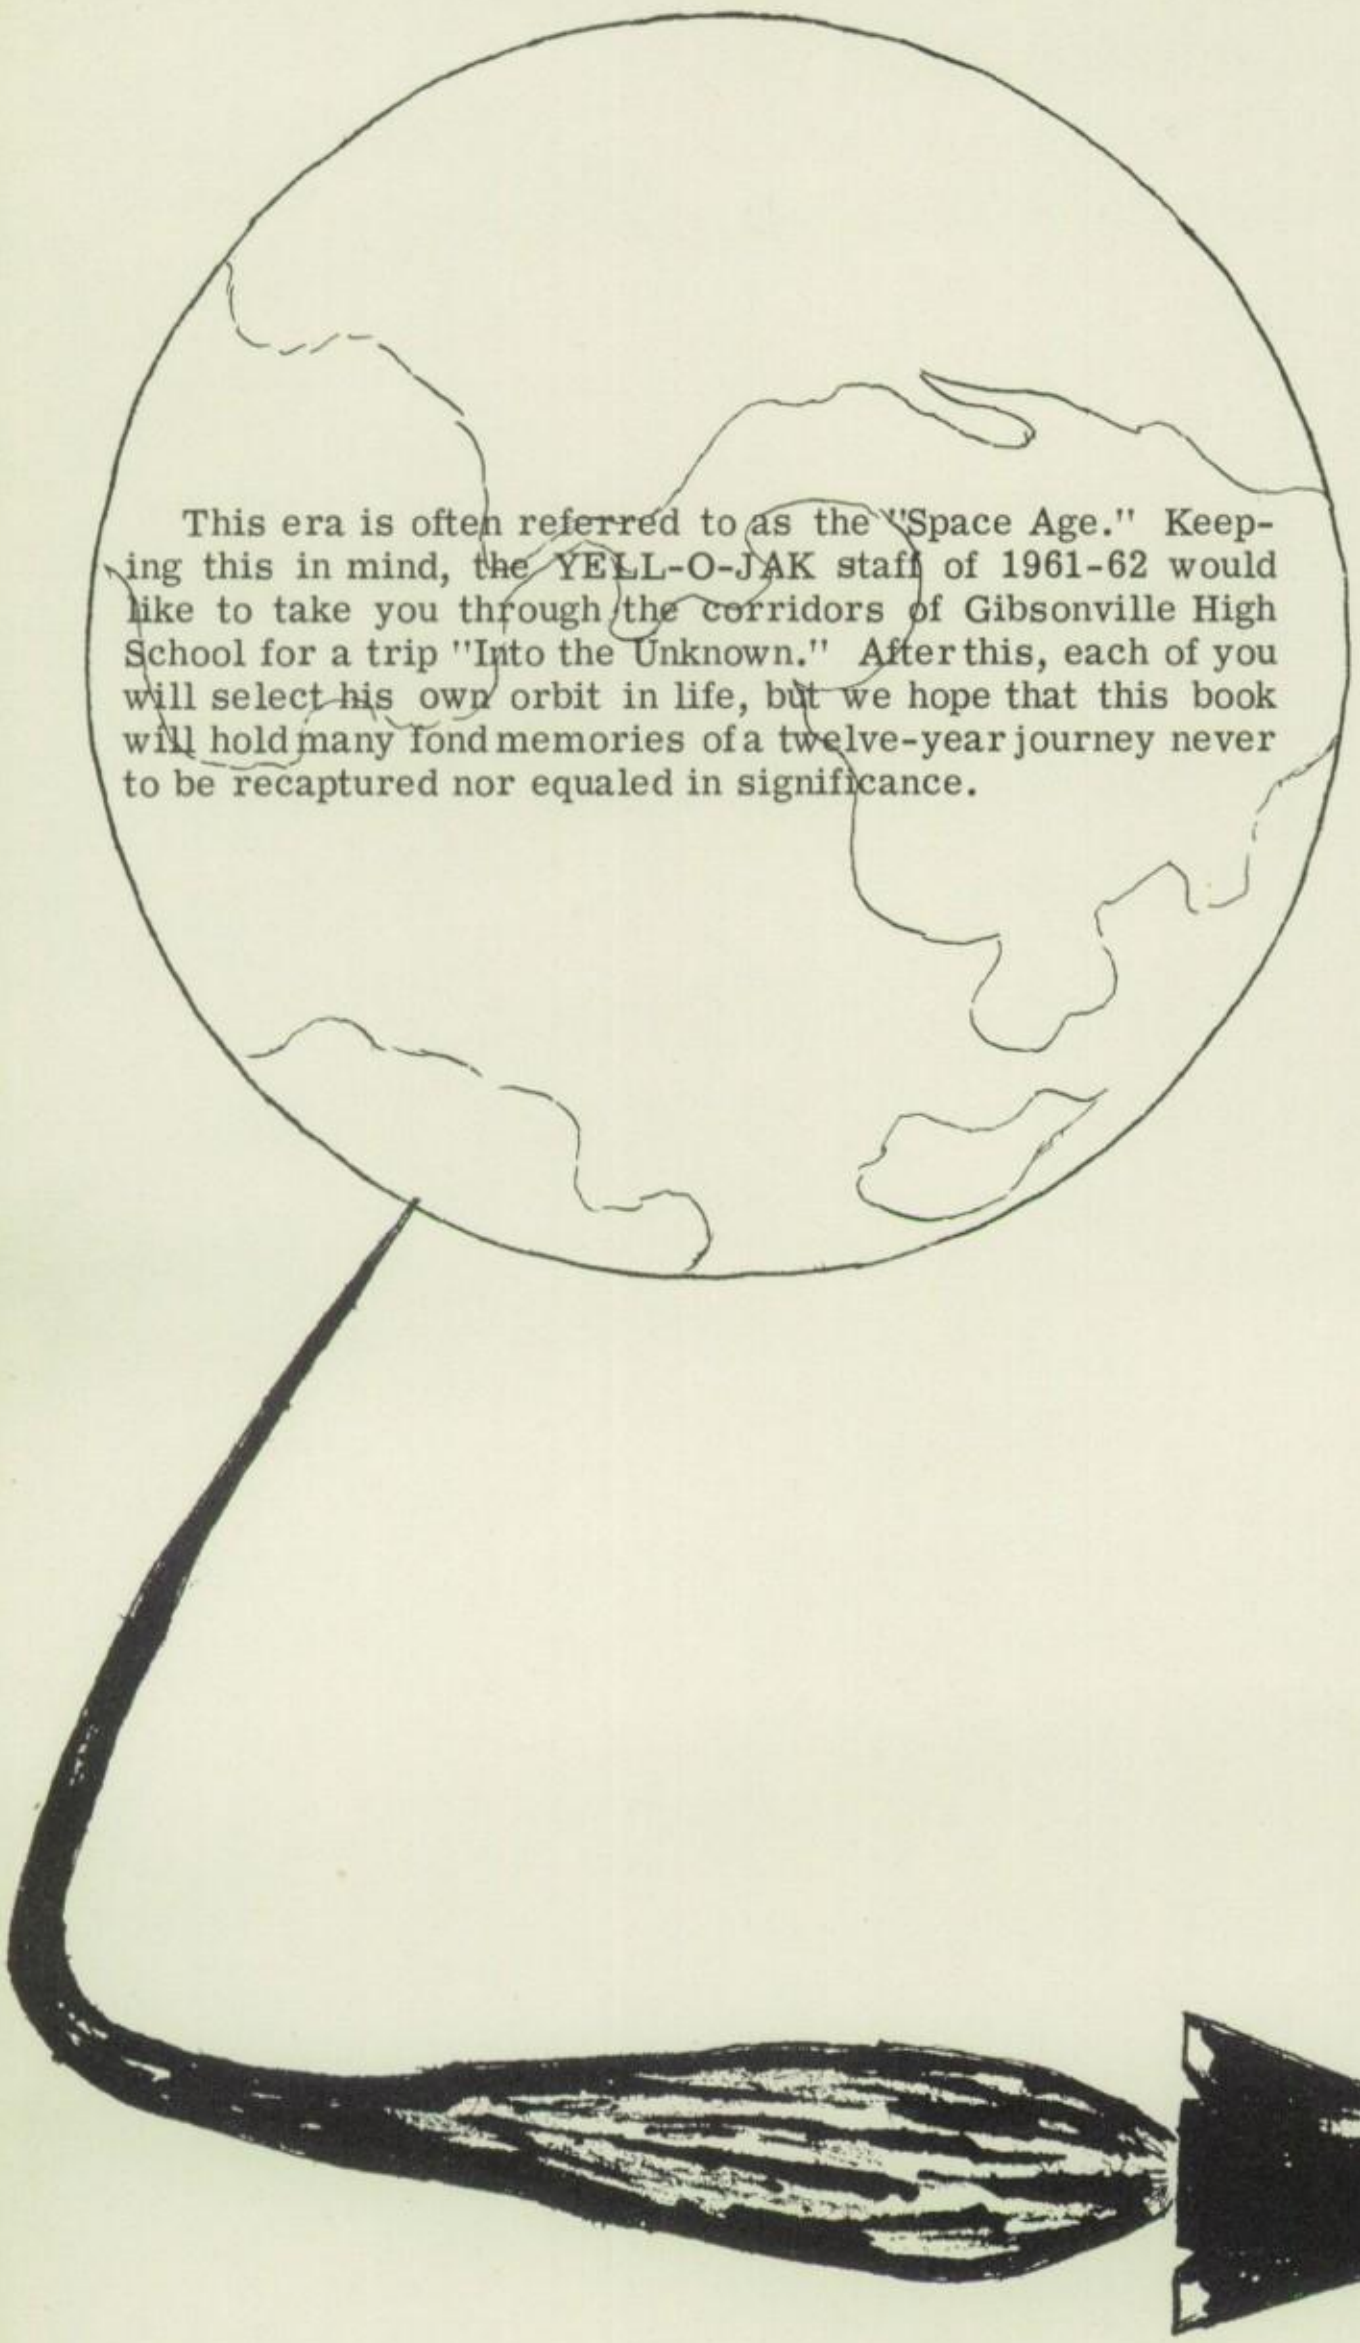
UNKNOWN

FOREWORD



This era is often referred to as the "Space Age." Keeping this in mind, the YELL-O-JAK staff of 1961-62 would like to take you through the corridors of Gibsonville High School for a trip "Into the Unknown." After this, each of you will select his own orbit in life, but we hope that this book will hold many fond memories of a twelve-year journey never to be recaptured nor equaled in significance.

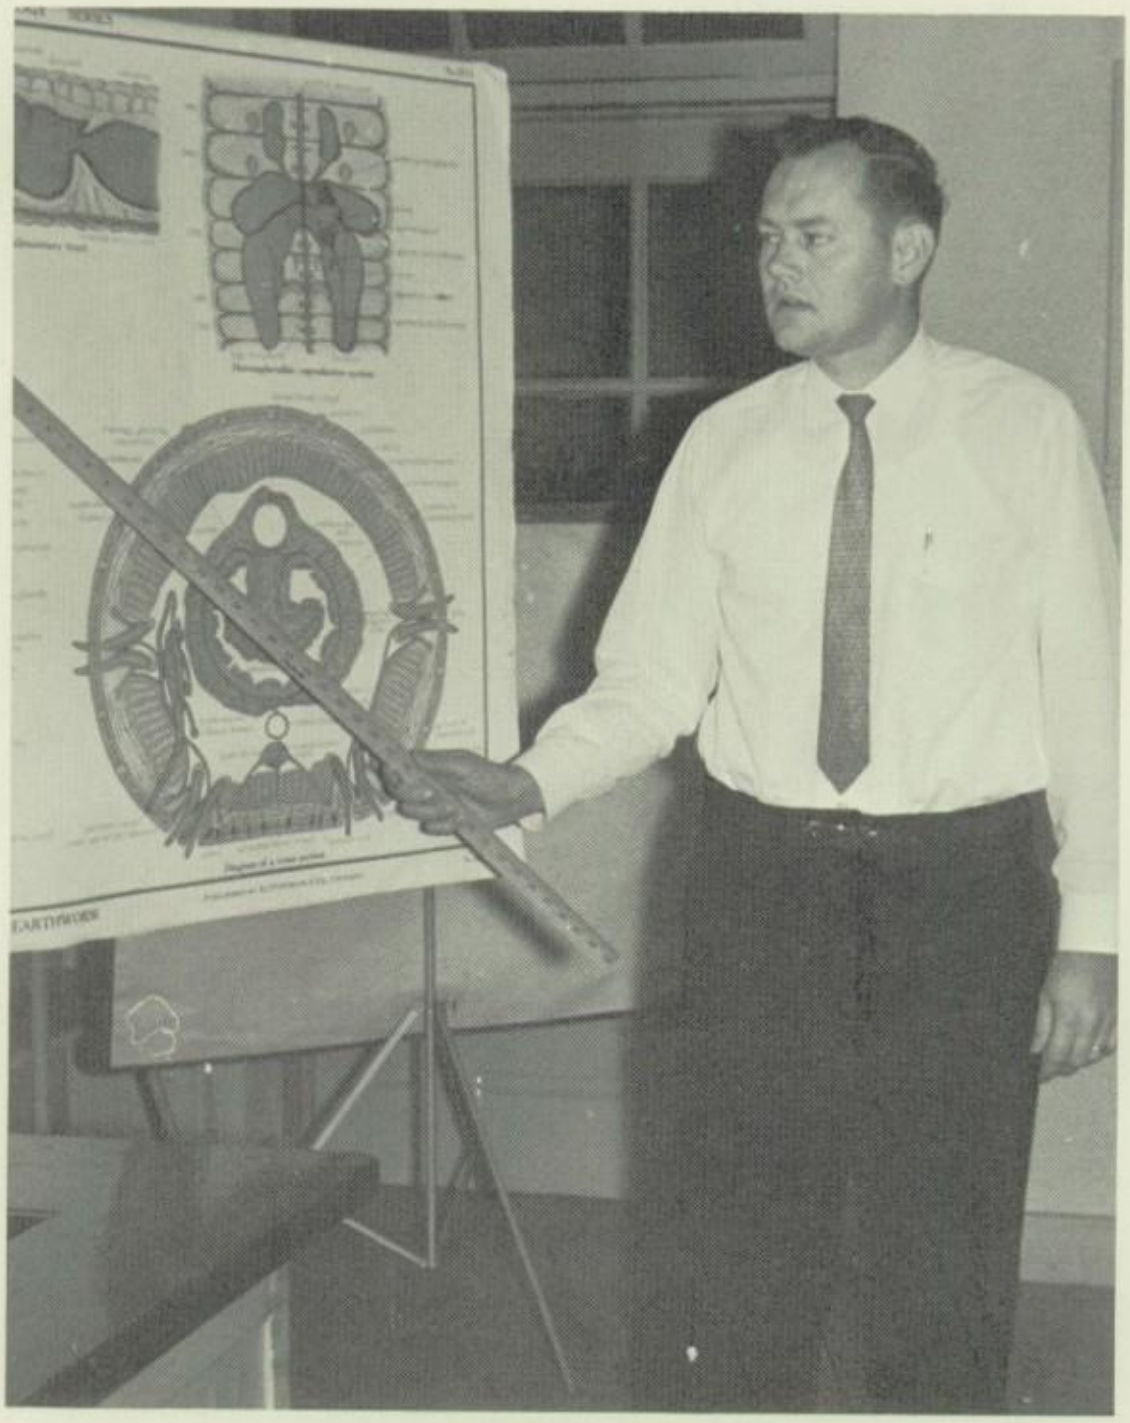
DEDICATION



In this era, which is called the "space age," special emphasis has been placed upon science. When we entered high school, one person opened the door to us and has guided us through this wonderful world of scientific mystery and phenomenal wonders with a skill which could never successfully be replaced.

This person has, however, gone beyond the call of duty for the benefit of his students. He has always shown himself willing to help his students with any problem which might arise. His friendly manner and genuine concern have made him a friend to all students.

For these and countless other reasons, it is with deep gratitude and sincerity in our hearts that we dedicate the 1962 YELL-O-JAK to . . . . . .

Mr. Alexander M. Edgerton

On the following pages appear the faces of the classmates who have become a part of our lives during the few years that we have known them. "Green" freshmen; "silly" sophomores; "jolly" juniors; "dignified" seniors; these adjectives describe all of us some of the time, but none of us all the time. Each class shares work and play, joys and sorrows, failures and successes. As Seniors preparing for our trip "Into the Unknown," we have tried to recreate in this section, the days which we, as friends and classmates, have spent together at Gibsonville High School sharing never-to-be-forgotten memories.
